

EDWIN HOCKMAN

- Nine years of undergraduate and graduate college education. Gained three degrees in multiple environmental related disciplines. Worked at ski areas and ski bummed during breaks between degrees. Worked for US Forest Service California and Idaho. Fought forest fires in the Eastern and Western US.
- 46 years environmental management and protection experience for both regulatory agencies and industry.
- Worked at West Virginia DNR and co-authored the West Virginia RCRA, CERCLA, Solid Waste and Groundwater Protection regulatory programs. Defended programs during state legislative and EPA review and approval processes. Implemented and enforced program requirements.
- 13 years of environmental protection experience in the petroleum industry. Advanced Environmental Advisor for Pennzoil Corporation. Director of the Groundwater Management Section and Environmental Technology Assessment and Development Group for AMOCO petroleum company. Chairman of the API Soils/Groundwater Technical Task Force and Waste Programs Committee. Consultant to USEPA Science Advisory Board.
- 25 years of experience in Health, Safety, and Environmental disciplines in the asphalt roofing industry. Corporate Director of TAMKO EHS Department. Former chairman of the ARMA HSE committee. Member of the Asphalt Institute HSE Committee.

Currently: Retired from the occupational world, doing some consulting gigs, and going on play dates.