

Doug Kriech serves as a senior research chemist at Heritage Research Group since 2016. He received his B.A. in Chemistry from Wabash College and his Ph.D. from the University of Utah in Analytical Chemistry in 2015. Since joining HRG, Doug's research has included such topics as recycling lithium-ion batteries, new asphalt product formulations, and longitudinal pavement joint research.